

Endurance International Group Named A 2017 Best Workplace By Great Place To Work®

BURLINGTON, Mass., Nov. 15, 2017 /PRNewswire/ -- Endurance International Group, a global leading provider of web solutions designed to help small and medium-sized businesses succeed online, announced it has been certified as one of the country's Best Workplaces by consulting firm Great Place to Work®. Endurance International Group earned this credential based on extensive ratings provided by its employees in anonymous surveys.

"At Endurance we strive to provide an environment where innovation thrives and all employees can reach their full potential. We are proud of our certification as a Great Place to Work for the second year in a row and will use this as further motivation to continue improving and building our collaborative culture," said Jeffrey H. Fox, president and chief executive officer of Endurance International Group.

Highlights of the Great Place to Work employee survey revealed that 75 percent of Endurance employees say their workplace is great and 90 percent take pride in where they work. As a Great Place To Work, Endurance provides a competitive benefits package and a work environment where employees feel valued, respected and safe.

"We take great pride in our sharp, creative team members and we're thrilled that they've rated us among the best workplaces in the country. We value our employees' ideas, hard work and commitment to providing our customers with industry leading technology tools, resources and customer care. We recognize that our employees are the most important component to our long-term business success," added Fox.

With offices across the country, Endurance is always looking for talented developers, marketers and customer care professionals to join its team. For more information on careers with Endurance, please visit:
